St. Louis CAPS and Oasis Digital Solutions, Inc. invite high school sophomores and juniors that aspire to pursue a career in business, entrepreneurship, and/or technology solutions to attend an informational session. Come hear why these key business partners – and more – think participation in the St. Louis CAPS course can set you on a path for success. These business partners will describe how they interact with St. Louis CAPS student associates as well as provide advice and answer questions. Attendees will also get a chance to hear from current St. Louis CAPS students describe their experiences. Participating high schools should select students to invite to the informational session and help arrange transportation to and from the event. All attendees should use the link below to register: <http://stlcapsinfo.eventbrite.com/?s=88455136>
